THE HON SIMON CREAN MP, MINISTER FOR THE ARTS

In 2011 the National Film and Sound Archive's Big Screen festival is celebrating its tenth anniversary of touring Australian films to regional and remote areas of Australia. The Big Screen festival is a vital part of the NFSA's work to increase national awareness of Australia's audiovisual culture and highlights its ongoing commitment to inspiring experiences, engaging and learning. Since 2001, Big Screen has visited over 100 venues – from Karratha to Nambucca – and is continuing to grow as Australians embrace the festival culture and celebrate our artistic diversity. I hope you enjoy the festival.
